

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

PREFATORY NOTE.

THERE must of necessity be a good deal of monotony in the introductory notices that I write upon the smaller collections of manuscripts in Cambridge Colleges. In most cases the burden is the same. "This and that College," one has to say, "once possessed a large and interesting library which has now entirely disappeared; and its present possessions in the way of manuscripts are lamentably scanty." Of Clare College this is undoubtedly true. The Library was quite large and remarkable. We have a partial Catalogue of it, never yet published, and we have also notes made by Leland and Bale upon books which they saw there—many of which are not mentioned in the Catalogue. Much could be said, and something will, I hope, be said of the Old Library: but I must in this place concern myself only with what I find at present on the shelves. Thirty-one volumes is the total, and they may be classified as follows:

Biblical. One Latin Bible of the ordinary type, and a Greek Lectionary.

Liturgical. An interesting Psalter from the neighbourhood of Peterborough, four Horae (foreign), a Breviary of Norwich diocese, a good collection of Devotions (English), and a late Spanish service book.

Patristic and Medieval Theology. Tracts of Augustine (the oldest of the manuscripts), Smaragdus; three volumes of Gregory (one from Worcester), a late Gelasius Cyzicenus, two collections of sermons, a comment on part of the Old Testament, a common tract of Grosseteste, and a moral Dictionary.

Classical. A good but imperfect copy of Justinus and Orosius; another, later, of Quintilian and Aulus Gellius: a volume of Greek grammar, and a late version of some tracts of Xenophon.

General Literature. Thomas of Capua, and Geoffrey of Monmouth, both probably from St Albans. An astronomical book once the property of Gonville and Caius College: a volume of medicine, a work of Pomponazzo, Legge's Richard III. In French there are fragments of the Roman des Romans, and of a metrical life of Thomas a Becket.

The best of the books are the gifts of Dr John Heaver. Of so miscellaneous a character is the whole collection that any general remarks upon it are hardly possible. The student will readily pick out from the few pages of description the points which may prove attractive to him.

Haenel (Catalogi, p. 781) has a list of manuscripts seen by him in this library which I here repeat, adding the numbers by which they are now known.

1. Anon. tract. de anima, saec. xiv. membr. 4.
2. Justini epit. Trogi Pompeii: Orosii hist. Langobardorum (!), saec. xiii. 18
3. Horae, saec. xv. membr. ? 2
4. Lectionarium, saec. xvi. membr. 4 29
5. Biblia Latina, saec. xiv. membr. 4 8
6. Speculum seu de vera simplicitate, saec. xiv. membr. fol. . 16
7. Anon. comm. in Test. vet., saec. xiv. membr. fol. . 25
8. Gregorii dialogi, saec. xiii. membr. 4 30
- 9, 10. Missale, saec. xv. membr. 4 (2 exempl.) 3, 4
11. Tract. de philosophia, saec. xvi. membr. 4 21
12. Thomae de Capua summa artis dictaminis, saec. xv. membr. 4 14
- 13-16. Quatuor codd. orientales papyracei (not described).
Reginonis chronicon frustra a me quaesitum est (vid. Pertz, Monum. Tom. I. p. 540).

Schenkl (Biblioth. Patr. Lat. Brit. nos. 2879-2882) gives some notes drawn from Haenel on these MSS. which he had not himself seen.

At Clare College, Uffenbach (Merkwürdige Reisen, III. 27) after speaking of the printed books notes these manuscripts:

1. Vol. in fol. membr. B. Turpini Archiep. Historia ad Leoprandum, etc. (He also cites the Geoffrey of Monmouth) = no. 27
2. Vol. in fol. membr. Quintilianus, Cod. recentior initio mutilus = no. 26
3. Vol. in 4, chart. recentius. ἐπιμνηστικὰ (!) Lecapeni . . . = no. 24
4. Item Cod. in membr. Aug. de bono coniugali = no. 19
5. Item Cod. in fol. membr. Justinus cujus initium deerat = no. 18

I proceed to give the references to manuscripts formerly at this College which are given by Leland and Bale.

Cunctis excellencior angelorum choris

flos humani generis, liliu pudoris

rosa paciencie mater saluatoris audi queso domina uocem peccatoris.

Deus te pro omnibus collocauit secum.

cum primatum teneas, pium est et equum

aride et uirgule que produxit florem, preter rerum seriem et nature morem uirgo deum procreas, opus conditorem.
- In te pneuma fabricans ollam nostre spei naturam confederat hominis et dei manet quod diuersitas utriusque rei tamen personaliter hec unitur ei.

Confessors: Augustine (ii), Cuthbert, Wilfrid, Dunstan.

Virgins: Radegund, Scholastica, Anastasia, Etheldrida, Wereburga, Brigida.

Ut regi nostro et principibus nostris.

Ut loca nostra et habitantes in eis.

I cannot get much light on the persons named in the Kalendar.

The Commission of the Peace was issued to William de Raundes in 1327 and 1331 for Rutlandshire.

Ellesworth can only be Elsworth in Cambridgeshire which belonged to Ramsey Abbey.

It seems that Raunds Church belonged to the College of Newark or of the Annunciation at Leicester, where Henry Duke of Lancaster was buried.

The presence of S. Kineburga in the Kalendar shows the neighbourhood of Peterborough unequivocally.

The initials to the Psalms are mostly in plain colours filled up with silver. The following Psalms have larger initials with rough ornament.

1. Beatus uir.
2. Dixi custodiam.
3. Saluum me fac.
4. Exultate.
5. Cantate (xcvii).
6. Domine exaudi (ci).
7. Dixit dominus.

The French version of the Psalms contained in the MS. may be exemplified by a specimen of Ps. i.

Beneurez li ber ki nen alat al conseil desfeluns! e en la ueie despecheurs nestut • e en la chaere de pestilence ne sist.

Mais en la lai de nostre seignor la uolente de lui! e en la sue lei porpenserat par nnt e par iur.

Empuriceo ne resurdrunt li felun en iuise! ne lipeccheur el conseil des dreituriers.

Kar nostre sire cunust la ueie des iustes! eleecire desfeluns perrat.

The original hand breaks off on f. 138 b:

Et in hac trinitate nichil
prius aut posterius ni—

En ceste trinitet nul chose primes u derainz nule chose grendre.

The next leaf, in the later hand, begins in the Litany with Sancte mathee.

The suffrage to Thomas of Lancaster begins:

O thoma <dux> lanchastrie gemma que fles (? flos) militie que in dei nomine et (?) propter fata anglie...sustin...te. ora pro nobis christi miles. qui nunquam pauperes tenisti (!) uiles.

Oremus. Omnipotens sempiterna deus qui militem (?) strenuum (?) tuum et fidelem thomam comitem lanchastrie per crudelem martiri(u)m palma.....

The prayer on 144 b begins thus:

Oratio bona gagdeamus (?) xpo laudes p..... qui natus est de virgine • illuxit nobis hodie. Christus volens incarnari • nosque sibi copulari • carnem sumpsit de virgine • vim expellens demencie (or demonii). Nostri dolo mors intrauit. Tactu ligni cum patrauit. Parens primus posteris • multam ferens..... Propugnator christus fortis • ligno saluans dampna mortis. Carnis morte nos sanauit • et ad... mors et vita conflixere • mortem strauit vita vere. etc.

Vellum, $6\frac{1}{2} \times 4\frac{1}{2}$, ff. 402, double columns of 36 lines. Cent. xiv and xv. The tops of the leaves in the early part of the volume have suffered from damp. A good pointed hand: initials flourished, in red and blue.

Rr⁸ and Ss, a quire of 6 leaves, are gone.

The above list supplies a table of Contents as well as a collation. I add notes of the special points of the book.

On the page before the Kalendar are the Benedictiones ante euangelium in a later hand.

- 17. S. Etheldrede ix l. added in black.
- 19. S. Frigiswide ix l. added in black.
- Nov. 3. S. Wenefrede ix l. added in red.

The name of St Thomas of Canterbury is erased.

The Litanies are of the full Sarum type, for the days of the week, and seem to have no local additions.

On quires a* b* are added, by another hand, lessons and offices for St David, St Chad, St Felix (of East Anglia: marked as 'synodale Norwicense'), Translation of St Edmund (non Sarum: synod. ord.), St John of Beverley, St Dominic, St Thomas of Hereford, St Francis, St Winifred, St Thomas of Canterbury.

Then follow:

Benedictions for Feasts of the Virgin.

Lectiones de S. Maria per estatem.

At Ll 1 is possibly a change of hand. On that leaf in the Commemoration of St Priscus is the rubric: Set in ordinal. Welwik et Edmundi semper dicuntur cum versiculo, etc.

The book ends imperfectly in the Commune Virginum.

11. T. LEGGE. RICHARDUS III.

Kk. 3. 12

Paper, $7\frac{3}{4} \times 5\frac{3}{4}$, ff. 68, cir. 40 lines to a page. Cent. xvi (1579), fairly well written.

On the flyleaf is this note, signed by J. O. Halliwell:

“The original of this play is in MS. in St John’s College Library. There is another copy in Caius College, but it has not I believe been printed. Mr Smith in the 3rd number of the Cambridge Portfolio has mentioned it. The parchment in which this MS. is found is part of a Missal.” The binding alluded to is now gone: the book is in modern calf. I do not find any MS. of the play at St John’s College: that at Caius is no. 125. Others are at Emmanuel College (no. 71), in the University Library Mm. 4 40, and Harl. 2412, 6926. The play was printed in 1844 for the Shakespeare Society by B. Field.

Evangeliste, comitiis Baccholaureorum Anno 1579.

Vellum, $8\frac{1}{8} \times 5\frac{3}{4}$, ff. 8 + 212 (wrongly numbered), in several hands, 34, 36, 32 lines to a page. Cent. xiii, partly in an Italian hand.

Given by John Heaver. 2 fo. et perfectio.

At the top of the flyleaf is written (xv) "physik."

Collation : a⁴ || 1⁸ (wants 1) 2⁸-7⁸ || 8⁸ 9⁸ 10⁸ (+ a slip after 6) 11⁸ 12⁸ 13⁸ (+ 3*) 14⁸ 15⁸ 16⁸ (three left) || 17⁴ 18⁸-20⁸ 21¹⁰.22⁸ || 23⁸-27⁸ 28⁴ || b⁴, quire 22 should follow quire 19, by the catchwords.

At each end are four flyleaves of early xiiith cent., 40 lines to a page. They form a complete quire of eight leaves. Those at the end of the volume are the four middle leaves of the quire. The contents are a fragment of a life of St Thomas of Canterbury in French verse. They begin :

For sul i tant il mesprist
Ke larcesweske pas nelfist
Seint thomas.
Kar cil ke la curune imist
Vuerat encuntre ihesu crist
Sifist ke las.
Kar lofice alui ne parteneit

Ne poeste.

f. 2 ends:

Semblant esteit senz mentir
 Qve curune li uolt tolir
 A grant tort
 E si lui ueneit a plaisir.

f. 1 of those at the end continues:

Amer le deust e servir
 Deske a la mort.

The last of the leaves at end finishes:

Seignors dist il si vos pleist
 Qvant mi sanc espandre deit.

f. 3 at beginning continues:

Pur deu amur
 Defors la eglise metiz serreit
 Que el ensanglante ne feuit
 De un pecheur.

f. 4 ends:

Le martir en tere issi amer
 Servir • e requere • honurer
 Deuoutement.
 E de ses biens seum parcener
 Et od li puissum regner
 Finablement. Amen.
 Explicit liber sancti thome martiris.

The fragment is noticed, but not identified, in Hardy's Catalogue of Materials (Rolls Series) ii. no. 460, p. 372. It is in fact a fragment of the metrical life by Benedict the monk (l. c. p. 355): the last three lines at least are identical. But in this MS., those which precede have been altered to make the name of the scribe appear as that of the author. So says M. Paul Meyer, to whom I submitted the text: the last lines are:

Seignurs des ore uoil finer
 Par uoz cungiez me reposer
 De mun labur.
 Si rien ai dit ke ait mester
 Seint thomas endeuez mercier
 E faire lui honur
 E nus euus en ceste uie

 etc.

The text is, as is well known, extracted from the work of Walter Mapes, De Nugis Curialium.

These two commentaries perhaps deserve to be read and investigated. Neither of them appears to be identical with that contained in Queens' College MS. no. 10. Nor do any of the three seem to be that of Nicholas Trivet.

On f. 84a in a large hand (that of the main scribe of the volume) is:

The old heading is:

Albenarat, Messehallam, Dorotheum, Jergem, Aristotelem,
Albumazar, et Aomar. 69

Celestis circuli forma sperica.

The hand changes at f. 122, and again at 143, col. 2, this time to a writing which might almost be Marchall's.

Ends f. 144 a: pluuias renouant.

Expl. lib. Nouem Judicum qui sunt Aristotiles, Albumazar,

Jergis	tabarus (? tartarus)
Abenalhaith	(blank).

f. 144 b is blank.

Between ff. 118, 119 is a paper with a diagram dated 1515.

Perhaps by Humphrey De la Pole.

15. In red at the top added by Marchall (?):

Alfadhol in auguriis stellicis.

The original heading is:

Hoc quod dixit Alfadhol filius sehel in aguriis stellicis . . . 145

Postquam cogitauit in magnitudine super populum in ordine uicis

Imperatoris Aaron Arasseid cuius moram prolonget deus.

This is written in 33 lines to a page in a hand like the best of the first part of the volume, about f. 39: but it is a better hand and does not degenerate. There is a large and beautiful initial. The prologue ends on f. 145 b:

a principio prime domorum questionum.

Expl. prohemium Alfadhil fil. Sehel in aug. stell.

The rest is in tabular form, each section consisting of lines numbered from 1 to 12. Each line begins Quesiuiisti. There are 144 sections.

Ending f. 169 b: Expl. liber Alf. filius Sehel in aug. stell.

Finitur liber iste sit laus et gratia tibi christe.

16. a. Inc. flores Albumasar de electionibus f. 170

The sections are mostly tables (from 1 to 53). 54-67 are continuous prose. 54 is headed Capitulum in naratione saturni etc. Hunc librum intellerunt (!) romani, etc.

Ending f. 172 b: et maris animalium.

Finitur liber iste sit laus et gracia tibi Christe. Digby 48, no. 21.

- b. One column, probably in the same hand 173

The rest of the leaf is blank.

17. In a hand of Italian aspect, which on f. 175 b developes into one like that of no. 16 (43 lines to a page) with an initial of French work.

Inc. liber geumancie 174

Figura prima dicitur domus uite corporis.

The figures are at first given in the margin.

On f. 184 the tract seems to end: in comparationem bestiarum.

Explicit.

But three more paragraphs follow, apparently supplying an omission in the text. These end on f. 184 b with the colophon qui finit hunc librum ualeat ascendere in celum. Amen.

18. In an English hand, double columns of 56 lines.

Inc. practica aiium 185

On the verso of the next flyleaf in a hand of cent. xv is:

Gaudet erus galea precedere bella corusca

Et saliens sonipes cursitat ante greges

Hunc sua facta laudant Edwardum nomine quantum

Quem gens tota timet (et) veneretur eum.

On the next

16. SPECULUM GREGORII. Haenel 6.

Kk. 4. 3

Vellum, 13½ × 8½, ff. 135, double columns of 31 lines. Cent. xiii early, in a large narrow upright hand. The ink has come off in many places. 2 fo. quia dum cauti.

On the flyleaf is written 'Clare Hall' (xvi, xvii).

Collation: i⁸-xiv⁸ xv¹⁰ xvi¹⁰ xvii⁴ | 1 flyleaf.

Contents:

First leaf blank: on the second in double columns in a hand of cent. xiv, xv are capitula, headed:

In nomine dei et saluatoris nostri Ihesu Christi incipit liber qui vocatur speculum. Primo de vera simplicitate.

The capitula as far as 89 are given on this leaf: the rest are at the end.

Speculum f. 1

Reverentissimo in Christo patri H(ermann)o prospito (presbytero)

A(lcwinus) humillimus leuitarum. (Martene and Durand, Thes.

Anecd. i. 84.)

—feliciter per secula infinita.

In nomine dei etc. (as above)—prima. De uera simplicitate . . . 1 b

Nonnulli namque ita sunt simplices.

Ends f. 133 a: the ink has almost gone.

Then follow the capitula from 90 to 192 in the same hand as at the beginning.

The book is a compilation from the Moralia of St Gregory made by Alcwinus or Adelbertus: printed in St Gregory's works.

17. SMARAGDI DIADEMA MONACHORUM. Kk. 4. 4

Vellum, $12 \times 7\frac{3}{4}$, ff. 75, 32 lines to a page. Cent. xi, xii, in a clear hand, not unlike that of the Christ Church, Canterbury, MSS. of the period. 2 fo. de eo quod or nec tamen.

There is no donor's name.

Collation: 1^s (wants 1 ?) 2^s–9^s 10⁴ (2–4 mutilated).

Contents:

c. De duobus altaribus in homine, etc.

Cap. 1 begins:

Hoc est remedium eius 2 b

Large initial (Canterbury style) in white, red, green and purple, containing man and dragon.

The chapters have smaller initials: c. iv. has king with sword and shield sheltering a dragon under his cloak.

After c. vi these initials seem to be all plain.

The treatise ends on f. 73, which is mutilated:

—gaudium habere mereamur. A(men).

Expl. liber Dia(dematis m)onachorum.

Only fragments of the next two leaves are left.

On f. 73 b and 74 are notes in a smaller and later hand. The first is a disquisition on forged letters such as St Paul mentions in 2 Thess. The relics of it begin thus:

suos ascribunt nobis et doctrine
t: De qua ipsi uiderint nolentes dici regnum dei non possidebunt
de regno eiciuntur et diabolum

18. IUSTINI HISTORIAE ETC. Haenel 2. Kk. 4. 5

Vellum, $14 \times 9\frac{3}{4}$, ff. 62, double columns of 43 lines. Cent. xii, early: in the hands used at that time at Christ Church, Canterbury. Initials in purple, green and red: smaller initials in plain red or green.

Binding: bevelled wooden boards covered in white skin.

Given by John Heaver, who has written in the cover:

Justinus imperfectus.

Orosius imperfectus.

I have little doubt that the book is from Christ Church, Canterbury, or Rochester: in any case written at Christ Church.

Collation: 4 flyleaves cut out | i^s (wants 1 and 8) ii^s-v^s (vi, vii gone) viii^s (several quires gone) ix^s (x gone) xi^s xii^s (2 canc.) | 1 flyleaf.

Contents:

Wants a preliminary leaf with capitula, and first leaf of text.

Begins in I. 2:

Statuere eiusque tres partes f. 1

Lib. I. ends imperfectly in the last chapter but two:

cunctantibus sublata.

One leaf containing the end of I. and the beginning of II. is gone.

Lib. II. begins in c. 1: meridiē cartaginiense 7

Lib. III. 13

Lib. IV. 21

Lib. V. 29

Ending in c. 22:

Lib. VII. begins in c. 15 (of Antoninus Pius) 38

Bellum deinde contra Parthos.

And ends in c. 39:

Just before this a leaf was evidently wanting in the archetype after the last words of c. 37. The reading is aliquando ad tempus spacio deferatur * queat. tertia die barbari. 39. 14, 15.

The gap is at the asterisk.

19. S. AUGUSTINI QUAEDAM.

Kk. 4. 6

Vellum, 9 × 7½, ff. 145, 20 lines to a page. Cent. x, in a good Carolingian minuscule.

On the flyleaf is:

Clemens Gregorie 1640.

2 fo. incrementum.

There is also an old title of cent. xii:

AVGUSTINUS DE BONO CONIVGII. Lib. 1.

Aug. de virginitate. Lib. 1.

Aug. de Nuptiis et Concupiscentia. Libri 11.

The same is repeated below in a neat xvth cent. hand.

The writing of the old title reminds me of some entries in Canterbury books: but I cannot find this MS. in the Canterbury Catalogues.

Collation: i^s ii^s-xviii^s xix[?] (three leaves left).

Contents:

1. The titles are in red (xiii), the other xv.
 Augustinus de bono coniugali f. 1

 Then follows an erasure of some xvth cent. accounts.

20. DICTIONARIUM MORALE.

Kk. 4. 7

Paper, 11½ × 8½, ff. numbered from 19 to 193. Cent. xv late.

Given by Barnabas Oley, Master.

On the last flyleaf is a badly scribbled copy of an obligation temp. Henry VIII (?) relating to some one living at Colling in Yorkshire.

Collation: x¹⁶ (wants 1-4, 15, 16) y¹⁶ z¹⁶ & ¹⁶ (wants 15, 16) aa¹⁶ (wants 1, 2, 16) Bb¹⁶ (wants 14-16) cc¹⁶ (wants 5) Dd¹⁶ (wants 1-5) ee¹⁶ ff gone gg¹⁶ (+ 1) hh¹⁶ ii¹⁶: one flyleaf.

The work is the second half of a sort of Speculum Morale. It consists of a number of pictures of trees roughly drawn with large leaves or circular fruits. There are one or more of these ugly trees on each page. On the root of each is inscribed its main subject, and on the leaves and stems and fruits the rest of the text is written. There is no text apart from these diagrams. The hand is bad.

The first page contains four trees, viz.: pars, participacio, parcere, partus. Sometimes a subject (as pax, peccatum, passio Christi) is continued over several pages.

The last in the book is Christus which occupies 3 pages.

21. P. POMPONATIUS DE FATO.

Then follow the Capitula of the six parts 107 b

After this is a much more diffuse analysis of the whole work, partly in tabular form, partly written as continuous prose, ending on f. 113 b. 108 b

The last three leaves are blank.

27. HISTORIA TURPINI.
HISTORIA BRITONUM ETC.

{ Kk. 5. 3

Vellum, 13 $\frac{3}{4}$ × 8 $\frac{1}{2}$, ff. 75 + 2, double columns of 38 lines. Cent. xiv, early, with good ornaments, in a clear round hand, of the kind that seems to be formed on an Italian model.

Given by John Heaver.

2 fo. gentem paganorum.

The flyleaf, which is cut, and illegible on the recto, is from a book of Halimotae, held in the reign of Henry III.: the writing is of cent. xv early (?). The name of the place where the Halimotae were held appears to be Tittenhanger (Herts.). This name and that of Wymundham occur in the text. Both places belonged to St Albans. It seems a fair inference that the MS. is from the St Albans library.

Collation: 1 flyleaf | 1¹² 2¹² (wants 11 blank) 3¹²–6¹² 7⁴ | 1 flyleaf.

Contents:

There is an initial, of excellent work, representing Turpin throned full face, in mitre and blue cope, with cross-staff and book.

For a full account of this romance see H. L. D. Ward's Catalogue of Prose Romances in the British Museum, i. 546.
The romance proper consists of 34 chapters, to which 3 supplementary chapters are commonly added. In these there is some variation: the three in the Clare MS. are found in Harley 6358 (and elsewhere). This Harleian MS. corresponds rather closely with ours, in date and contents.
2. Note on the succession of the French kings . . . 19 b
Ex genere priami fuit Meroueus.
—Ludouicus genuit Philippum qui nunc regnat.
3. A similar note on the Kings of England . . . 19 b Anno ab incarn. domini d.ccc.lxxvi Rollo cum suis Normanniam penetrauit.
—Mortuo Johanne successit ei Henricus filius eius (i.e. Henry III. 1216–1272).
4. Li Doctrinals: a Poem in French, without title . . . 20
Seignurs ore escutez ke deu vus beneie
Si orrez un romaunz plein de grant chertesie
Cest li doctrinals qui enseigne e chastie
Li secle kil se quart de orguil e de folie.

It is headed by a miniature of excellent style. The ground on L. is red, on R. blue. On L. stands a speaker in cap, blue cloak, and light red robe. On R. a group of six: a seated man, two men standing, two women and a young girl. The men all wear long outer cloaks with sleeves which are empty. The poem ends on f. 22 a:

Cest doctriual deit hum escriure e retenir
Kar de bons enseignemenz oir e detenir
Put hum ceu chose aprendre. dunt un purra ioir.

Most of f. 22 a and all 22 b and 23 are blank.

5. Galfridi Monumetensis Historia Britonum f. 24
(See Ward's Catalogue, l.c. p. 203.)

Cum mecum multa et de multis sepius animo reuoluens.
—interno gratulatur affectu.

Britannia insularum optima 24
Eneas post troianum bellum, etc. 24 b

The initial to the prologue represents a king with crown and sceptre in red mantle over blue, seated full face. It is of excellent style. On the lower margin of f. 36 a is a most excellent large drawing in outline. It represents Conuenna, the mother of Belinus and Brennius, greeting the latter when he had come to fight his brother. On the extreme L. is Brennius's horse: shield, sword, and crowned helmet on the ground. Then Brennius in mail and surcoat embraced by his mother (who is crowned), while with one arm she bares her breast. Belinus in mail advances from R.: shield, sword and crowned helmet lie behind him. On R. he is seen again in helmet on horseback, another horseman by him. The lower margin of f. 53, which probably had a picture, has been cut off.

On 56 b are the prologues to the Prophecies of Merlin.

The Prophecies begin on f. 57.

Ends on f. 75 b: in latinum transferre curauit.

Then follows a note on the duration of the reigns of English kings from Alfred to Henry III., whose length of reign is left blank.

Then a couplet (xiv, xv):

Vxores trine domui sunt causa ruine
Tollantur bine sunt ad mala mox resupine.

An erased couplet follows.

On the last flyleaf are two rough late scribbles in English: no proper names occur.

28. GELASIUS CYZICENUS.

Kk. 5. 4?

Paper, 16½ × 11¼, ff. 2 + 52, 33 lines to a page. Cent. xvi, very well written, in a large sloping hand.

"Ex dono Timothei Burrage huius Collegii socii A.D. 1663."

On a flyleaf is stuck a faint label :

Clement (?) Kitchingman wrote me
Sept. (?) 2, 1661.

Before the text is this entry :

MS. hanc Gelasii Cyziceni de S. Concilio Niceno primo translationem nomine Cl. Kitchingmanni τοῦ μακαρίτου M.A. et Ecclesiae Blunstoniensis in agro Suffolciensi Rectoris quondam vigilantissimi cujus in bibliothecâ reperta est, aulae Clarensi dono dat T. B.

At the beginning are two leaves of English rather badly written, being a plea for the observation of Church festivals, written under the Commonwealth. It seems to me that this, and not the main text, is what Kitchingman wrote. The hand of the volume looks earlier (xvi).

30. S. GREGORII DIALOGI, ETC. Haenel 8. Kk. 5. 6

Vellum, 13 × 8½, ff. 97 + 110, 30 lines to a page. Cent. xi, in a fine hand. 2 fo. Felix.

Collation: 1^a-6^a (wants 4, 5)-13^a (4 canc.) || 14^a-26^a 27^a.

On the flyleaf is a good deal of writing:

1. Table of contents (xvii).
2. Some English writing (xv) almost totally erased.
3. (xv) Annumerauerunt beniuolenciam circumspeccionis dinumerauerunt.
4. (xii, xiii) a set of verses (58) on the contents of the Books of Maccabees.

They begin thus:

I cito perge uiam dare sacra iube mathathiam (1 Macc. ii. 15 sqq.)
 Hi proficiscuntur et regis iussa sequuntur (ibid.)
 Ferto diis thura linquens legalia iura (ii. 17)
 Non ego thura dabo nec legis cita negabo (ii. 19)
 Mactantem porcum mathathias mittit ad orcum (ii. 23)
 Pergunt ad montes isti (iusti?) linquunt quoque sontes (ii. 28).

The form of these lines suggests at once that they were written to accompany a set of illustrative pictures: and this turns out to be actually the case. At the end, in a later (xiii) hand is written:

Hii sunt versus golie super picturam machabeorum.

I do not know of any evidence that there was at Worcester (whence, as we shall see, the MS. comes) a set of pictures of the Maccabees, but in the cloister or in some hall of the Priory there may well have been such a thing. In the Painted Chamber at Westminster was a famous example.

The name Goliath as the author of the verses is interesting. There is, as is well-known, a considerable mass of verse current under this name, notably the Apocalypsis Goliathae. The author of this poem was according to tradition Walter Mapes, Archdeacon of Oxford, and Rector of Westbury-on-Trym (no great distance from Worcester), in the latter half of the xiith century. I suspect that these verses are really by Mapes, who is here designated by the popular nickname. This adds greatly to their interest.

I add a transcript of the remainder of the verses: and references to the text of 1, 2 Maccabees. For further details see Camb. Ant. Soc. Proc. x. 3. 110 sqq.
